A New Years Message from Pope Francis:

"The best way to usher in a truly 'new' year is to stop waiting for things to get better on their own, and instead recognize what is essential and reach out now to help others. Today, at the beginning of the year, rather than standing around thinking and hoping that things will change, we should instead ask ourselves, 'This year, where do I want to go? Who is it that I can help?'. So many people, in the church and in society, are waiting for the good that you and you alone can do; they are waiting for your help."
